

Mental Involution or Intimate Revolution

Submitted by admin on Tue, 03/20/2012 - 19:25

Lecture Nbr: 59

Author: Samael Aun Weor

My dear brothers, this message, to tell you to prepare, to admonish, to advise you to dissolve the ego, the “oneself,” the “myself.” Only the Being can originate powerful civilizations of light; only those that have died within themselves will come out victorious in the final hindermost hour, only those don’t enter the abyss, only those will be able to return in the Golden age, without the need of passing through the second death.

In my work titled “The Mystery of the Golden Blossom,” you are taught the use of the “Lance.” It is necessary to know how to handle the Lance of Longinus, the weapon of Eros, to destroy all of those psychic aggregates that constitute the ego, the “myself,” the “oneself.”

Indubitably, in the forge of the Cyclopes we can realize marvels; it is there where we can create the SOMA PSUCHICON, that is to say, the wedding gown of the Soul. It is also there, where we can handle that marvelous weapon, that weapon of Eros, with which is feasible to destroy the psychic aggregates that constitute the “myself.”

When we have eliminated radically the ego, only the Being will remain within us, the divinely, that which is perfect.

Believe me, in the name of the truth, my dear brothers, that the Ego makes us ugly, in the most complete sense of the word. Those that carry inside the Ego, indubitably irradiate leftist waves, sinister, tenebrous, abominable.

When one has died within oneself, there only remains in the interior of each, there only remains in the profound interior, BEAUTY, and from that beauty emanates that which is called “LOVE.”

How could we today, sincerely, irradiate love, if we carry inside the Ego?
It is necessary that the Ego be destroyed, so that what solely remains within us is love.

Hermes Trismegistus said: “I give you Love, in which is contained the whole SUMMUM of Wisdom...”

To love is fundamental, love makes us truly wise, in the most complete sense of the word, well, it is the Summum of wisdom.

The authentic Wisdom, my dear brothers, is not the mind, but the Being, it is a functionalism, we should say, of the Consciousness (glorious synthesis, of all that that is called “Love”). Love is the Summum of all science, of all knowledge, real and true.

The mind, my dear brothers, does not know the truth, it is bottled up within the ego, it knows nothing about the Real. We should destroy the Ego, liberate ourselves from the Mind, so that there remains within us what is true, what is the Being, the Real.

In “The Mystery of the Golden Blossom,” I teach how to handle that extraordinary weapon, that is the “Lance.”

With that weapon we can disintegrate each one of the psychic aggregates that constitute the “myself.”

It is precisely in the Forge of the Cyclopes where we should invoke Devi Kundalini, our particular Divine Cosmic Mother. ...and she will eliminate... ...this or that psychological defect, that is to say, this or that psychic aggregate, this or that “I” or “myself” that personifies this or that error.

Obviously, She with her weapon will be able to do it, and like that we will go dying from instant to instant, from moment to moment. It is not enough to comprehend a defect, it is necessary, my dear brothers, to eliminate it. The COMPREHENSION is not everything, the ELIMINATION is needed.

We can label a defect with distinct names, pass it from one department to another of the mind, etc., but never alter it fundamentally. We need a power superior to the mind, capable of eliminating this or that error. Fortunately, such power is found, in a latent state within each one of us. Obviously, I am speaking of Devi Kundalini, the Igneous Serpent or our magical powers. Only imploring to Her, can we achieve that She eliminates that defect that we have comprehended integrally.

Dying like that, from moment to moment, my dear brothers, the day will arrive where there will solely dwell in the depths of each one of us, the Divine, the Being, that which is Real.

Those that truly want to come to form part of the future civilization, those that do not want to descend, in these times, inside of the entrails of the earth, in the submerged involution, should dissolve the Ego.

We are, then, before a dilemma: or we dissolve the ego by our own will or it will be dissolved for us. If we do not resolve ourselves to dissolve it, if we do not disintegrate it, then nature will take care of doing it in the infernal worlds, in the infradimensions of the Cosmos, inside of the alive entrails of this planet in which we live, but in what conditions! Even... ...the humanity will have to descend to the infernal worlds, that is to say, the lake of ardent fire and sulfur, which is the second death. That is how it is written, it is necessary for it to perish.

Now then, brothers, or we live it individually so that the Son of Man is glorified, or we live it collectively, but none of us can escape the... ...the terrible book of nature: I am referring to the “Apocalypse” of Saint John.

Now then, now comes Holy Week, and it is necessary to comprehend it profoundly; meditate, then, on this. We must remember that the Cross has the markings of the Three Nails and over the same exists the word “INRI” (Ignis Natura Renovatur Integram, the fire renews nature incessantly).

The Three Nails, are indicating the Three Purifications: The First corresponds to the First Mountain (of which I spoke in my book titled “The Three Mountains”), that is to say, the first purification is the INTIATION.

The Second corresponds to the Mountain of Resurrection; it is duly concretized in nine of the twelve labors of Hercules, the Solar Man.

The Third Purification is realized over the Second Mountain, before the Resurrection of the Son of Man. It is over the summit of that resplendent Mountain, that the EIGHT INITIATIONS received need to be qualified. The Initiations would be no good, if they weren’t qualified. One thing is to receive the Initiations and another thing is their qualification.

Now then, do not forget that they are Three Purifications, they are the Three Days that Jesus remained within the Sacred Sepulcher, before his Resurrection. They are the three days that Jonah spent within the stomach of the whale, before he was vomited by the same one in the shores of Ninive.

The Son of Man should be three days within his Sacred Sepulcher, before the Resurrection. He is resurrected in the Father because the Father and the Son are one. Like this, brothers, I want you to start understanding what the Sacred Week is.

The qualification of the Eight Initiations is realized, I repeat, over the summit of the Second Mountain before the Resurrection. Such qualification always has to pass by a period of time of EIGHT years (the eight years during which JOB, the Great Patriarch was “leprous;” the eight years of test and pain, the eight years of the great Holy week.

Seven are they days of “Genesis,” seven the Seals of the “Apocalypse” of Saint John, but the number Eight is of the splendors. Each one of us, if we want to arrive at the Intimate Self-Realization of the Being, has to live their Holy Week.

There is a need to realize within oneself, completely, the Initiation of Malkuth, that is to say, the Mysteries of the Abyss; there is a need take to the complete Perfection, to the elevated qualification, the Mysteries of Yesod, the Mysteries of Sex; there is a need to pass through the Initiation of Hod (the Astral body); there is a need to pass through the Initiation of Netzach (the Mental body); there is a need to pass through the Initiation of Tiphereth, so that the Son of Man is born in him, and dies, [and resuscitates] his psyche within the dead; there is a need as well to pass through the Initiation of Geburah (the Superlative Consciousness of the Being), and through the one of Chesed (the Being, or the Microprosopo, the small one... ..or the King of the Microcosmos); Finally, there is a need to pass through the Initiation in the Eighth day of Binah, so that the King arises from his sepulcher and comes to the world of Form.

The Seven Days of “Genesis” are represented, marvelously, in each one of these Initiations. Unquestionably we have to live “Genesis” within ourselves, here and now. We have to create within ourselves, an interior Universe, and make it, we should make it in Six Days because in the Seventh God rests, and in the Eighth he resurrects in his work; such as it is written in “Genesis.”

We have to break each one of the Seven Seals of the great book, which is Man. The first Seal, is the one of Malkuth; the Second the one of Yesod; the Third the one of Hod; the Fourth the one of Netzach; the Fifth the one of Tiphereth; the Sixth the one of Geburah, the Seventh the one of Gedulah.

“GENESIS” and “APOCALYPSE” complement each other and it is our turn to live “Genesis” in what’s individual and realize in ourselves what the Great Logos Architect of the Universe, did when He precisely created the world. We need to live the individual “Apocalypse,” if we do not want to live it collectively. There are two ways of living it: Individual or collectively! Collectively the whole humanity is living it, and the last seal is about to break! Up to here my brothers...

Source URL: <http://gnostictranslations.org/content/mental-involution-or-intimate-revolution>