

TRANSCENDENTAL SEXOLOGY

Certainly, we can study the sexology from two different angles; one is the mere official point of view, as is taught in the universities, in the faculty of medicine, etc., and another is the Gnostic point of view. I will explain sexology with the light of Universal Gnosticism.

First of all, Gnosis means Knowledge. The word Gnosis appears in the official science: Diagnosis, diagnostic... in etymology you can see the word Gnosis. The Gnostic movements know sexology profoundly.

In the name of truth, I have to say to you that Sigmund Freud, with his psychoanalysis, started an epoch of extraordinary transformations in the field of sexology. Sigmund Freud innovated this field of medicine and this is known by all those who have studied Freud. Alfred Adler, was certainly one of his best disciples; Carl Gustav Jung was also his disciple as well as many other psychologists, psychoanalysts and parapsychologists.

Sex itself is the center of gravity of human activities; all the aspects of the social life gravitate around sex. Let us observe a dance, a party: the entire party gravitates around the sex, the same as in a cafe, everything gravitates around sex.

Today, some wise men have begun to study sex with transcendental purposes; unfortunately, there is an abundance of pornography and the sex has deviated to mere sensual activities.

There are different classes of sex. There exists Normal Sex (which is the common one), the Infra Sexuality and the Supra Sexuality.

What is Normal Sexuality? Normal Sexuality is the sexual activity orientated to the reproduction of the species.

Infra Sexuality is different, there are two classes of infra sexuality. In the field of Kabbalah, it is said that Adam had two wives: Lilith and Nahemah. Lilith represents the sphere of the infra-sexuals, in this sphere we find the pederasty, homosexuals, lesbians, etc., and on the side of Nahemah, the abusers of sex, pornography, those that subject themselves to lust without any kind of control, etc. These are the two spheres of infra sexuality.

Normal Sex, I repeat, is related with the reproduction of the species.

Sexual pleasure is something legitimate, those that believe sexual pleasure is a sin, that qualify it as taboo or those that have the tendency to believe it is something to feel ashamed about, are absolutely mistaken.

I repeat, sexual pleasure is something legitimate and must not be despised, undermined or qualified as taboo. One has the right to sexual joy.

But let us think of the supra sex, the supra sexuality. Undoubtedly, the supra sexuality is for the genius, the transcendental men, the ineffable women, etc. Jesus of Nazareth, Buddha, Hermes Trismegistus, Mohammed, Lao Tzu in China, Quetzalcoatl (among us Mexicans), Pythagoras, etc., were supra sexual men.

All of us can enter the kingdom of supra-sexuality but in order to enter into the sphere of the supra sexuality, first of all, normal sex is necessary. Infra-sexuals like the lesbians, homosexuals, pederasts, and masturbators are not prepared to enter into the kingdom of supra sexuality. If an infra-sexual wants to regenerate himself, he must begin by attaining a normal sexuality, once this has been attained, he can wholly enter the path of supra sexuality.

For the homosexuals and lesbians, that belong to the sphere of infra-sexuality, regeneration is something difficult. Not long ago a homosexual came to visit me; he came from Honduras. That man had a very high intellectual culture and liked the revolutionary ideas of sexology that are divulged by Universal Gnosticism, so he told me his tragic history as homosexual.

However, he told me about his desire for regeneration so he could enter the field of normal sexuality and afterwards the path of the supra sexuality. I said to him: "My friend, you do not have any other alternative but to attain normal sexuality; in this moment you are an effeminate so you will have to begin by getting a woman. First of all, get a woman, get married, regenerate yourself, become a normal man, and the day you are a normal man, the day that you truly like women then you will be prepared to enter the field of supra sexuality; before that: it is not possible. In this moment, you are walking on the path of degeneration, you are a degenerate..."

Well, the man did not get offended, in truth he did not have any reason to feel so. He said to me "I will get a woman, I will get married and I will try to become part of the normal sexuality" because he wanted to one day enter into the transcendental spheres of supra sexuality. I wish him to regenerate himself!

On another occasion a lesbian came [to me] saying she needed my counsel, that she really liked women, that she had a very serious problem because she was spending a lot of money on a certain lady and that lady was, as we say, "cheating her".

Well, certainly the lady of her dreams had been seen with other ladies in the street and of course that situation made her feel jealous. That poor lesbian suffered like a man, she cried, begged and asked for counsel like a man (among parentheses, she was a horrible old woman, I do not deny that). I could not see her without a terrible repugnancy. Well, I gave her some advice; I said to her that the best thing for her to do was attain the regeneration, to get a man, to enter in the path of the normal sexuality, etc.

I do not know if that poor old woman regenerated herself but it did not seem to me that she had the desire for regeneration because she was really jealous of her lady and jealous of other ladies that accompanied her lady. She look more nor less like a real "macho". Observe how horrible the path of degeneration is, the infra sexual way. But, in truth, not only are the lesbians, homosexuals, masturbators, etc. infra-sexuals. No, infra-sexuals are also those who abuse the sex, those that at each second are changing ladies, those that copulate even 10 to 15 times a day (and there are people like that, I know them). Undoubtedly, people like that are degenerated, are infra-sexuals even if they believe that they are very masculine.

Let us now enter the path of normal sexuality. Normal sexuality, itself, is something beautiful: the man and the woman get together, love each other, reproduce the species, live a moderate life, etc. They live according to the interests of nature, and this is something you have to know.

Each one of us is a small machine -we cannot deny it- that captures determined types and subtypes of cosmic energy. Each small machine, each one of us, can capture types of cosmic or universal energy, transform them automatically and re-transmit them sub-consciously to the inner layers of the Earth. So, the Earth itself, is a living organism, an organism that lives because of us.

I do not mean with this that the plants do not fulfill the same function; it is clear that each plant according to its species captures determined types of cosmic vibrations, transforms them and then sends them to the inner layers of the Earth. It happens the same way for the animal organisms: they capture determined types of energy then transform and re-send them to the inner layers of the planetary organism. So, the Earth is a living organism. We reproduce ourselves in an incessant form through the normal sexuality and this is necessary for the economy of nature.

The sexual joy is a legitimate joy, it is not a crime, it is not a transgression as many sanctimonious, crack-brained and pietistic believe. However, today with our normal sexuality we are living according to the economical interests of nature.

Supra sexuality is another thing and that is clear. To enter into the field of supra sexuality means to enter onto the path of extraordinary transformations.

Frederick Nietzsche in his book "Thus Spoke Zarathustra", speaks about the Super Man. "The time of the Super Man has arrived. Man is just a bridge between the animal and the Super Man: he is a dangerous step in the path, a dangerous look backwards; everything in him is dangerous. The time of the Super Man has arrived..." Well, Hitler interpreted Nietzsche in his own way. During the second world war even the most insignificant German policeman was a 'Super Man'; no one felt small in the times of Hitler, in Germany everybody was a Super Man. It seems that Hitler, even with very good intentions, did not know how to interpret Nietzsche.

I say you, frankly, that I believe in the Super Man, but I think that Hitler took it the wrong way. It is possible to attain the heights of the Super Man, but this can be possible only through the transmutation of the sexual energies and this already belongs to the field of the supra sexuality.

In the human being there are five fundamental centers:

1. The Intellectual: is the most utilized by you, for study.
2. The Emotional: that is in the heart.
3. The Motor: that is in the superior part of the spinal column.
4. The Instinctive Center: that is in the inferior part of the spinal column.
5. The Sexual Center.

I will repeat again, so you can keep it in your memory: Intellectual, Emotional, Motor, Instinctive and Sexual. These centers are fundamental for human activities.

Concerning the sexual center, I want to say to you that it is the center around which all the human activities gravitate.

The thought is apparently very fast, but unfortunately it is [actually] very slow. If you are driving a car and suddenly, in a moment of danger, you start analyzing what you have to do, if you should move forwards or pass the car, move backwards or apply the brakes, what happens is that you crash and the catastrophe comes.

The Motor Center is faster. When one is driving a car, one does not have time to think: one acts quickly and then overcomes the problem, but if in that moment one acts with the thought, what will happen is a crash. How many times have we driven the car and, in a determined moment, we are undecided and think: "Do I have to turn right or left?" and the result is failure. So, the center of the thought is very slow; the motor center is faster.

The Emotional Center is also a fast center, but there is none faster than the Sexual Center.

If a man sees a woman, in a thousandth of a second he knows if she harmonizes with him. However, all of this happens in a thousandth of a second. You, the young people know this; you can be in front of a girl but instinctively, automatically know if she matches with your own "wave"; this is done very fast. So, it is a center that allows one to register with an extraordinary speed the other pole [meaning the opposite sex].

But let us analyze some other factors. Many times a man lives happily with his wife, he loves her; however, he feels that something is lacking. Certainly, it happens that one does not feel complete with her or that she fills up the activities of the Emotional Center, but perhaps she does not harmonize with one in the intellectual field, or perhaps in the sexual field they do not match. When he finds another lady, it can happen that [the other] one really matches with him and then comes what is called the adultery.

I do not come to speak about adultery. On a certain occasion, there was a place where many adulterers were drinking heavily; one of them, inebriated from the wine, said: "Hurrah for adultery!" No, I do not come to praise adultery because that would be absurd; but I see the causes of adultery.

Many times, one of the couple does not have an affinity with the other in one or more of the five centers, and possibly that affinity is found in another person, so this is the origin of what is known as adultery.

Let us use the case of a man that complements himself with a woman emotionally but not sexually. It may happen that he can find a different lady that complements him sexually. Let us suppose that a man complements himself mentally with a woman but not emotionally. It can happen that he will find another woman that complements him emotionally.

It can happen that in the world of habits a man does not complement himself with his wife but happens to find in the world of habits (related with the Motor Center) another woman with whom he really complements himself, with whom he feels affinity. This is the intrinsic cause of so many adulteries that originate divorces.

As I say, I do not come to praise adultery because that would be absurd and I am not agreeing with that lady who screamed: "Hurrah for adultery!" in the celebrated orgy. No my friends, I do not agree with that, I am just studying, in partnership with you, the sexual field and we could not omit adultery itself.

I believe that the best for a man is to find a woman that complements himself in the Intellectual, in the Emotional, in the Motor Center or the 'world of the habits', in the Center of the Instincts and in the Sex, that is to say, this is the ideal couple, the perfect one. And I believe that the ideal would be for the woman to find a man with whom she could complement herself wholly; then there would be true happiness.

One of the serious reasons why we cannot exist in happiness is the field of the temperaments. It is impossible for a man of ardent temperament to be happy with a woman that is a piece of ice. In the very act of kissing her, in that moment he finds that she does not want kisses: is really serious. Now, what could we say about the copulation, about the moment of copulation with a cool woman? Remember the book titled "Silohe, the Egyptian". It happens that in Egypt there were places for the mummification of bodies. There were many places, places of dirt where the cadavers were mummified and those that worked in those places smelled of dirt wherever they went, so no woman liked that class of men that smelled so ugly, that smelled of putrefaction. Being in putrefaction, do you know what that class of mummifiers used to do? They copulated with the cadavers of the women that were delivered to those places. Do you think that such a thing is pleasant: to copulate with cadavers? That happened in Egypt.

Well, what would you say about a man of ardent temperament that has to copulate with a "woman of ice", with a cadaver? That is frightfully horrible.

It is absolutely true that there exists the temperament that we could call bilious: heavy and torpid people. For example, a woman of torpid temperament that is slow in her movements and that possesses a heavy nature is impossible to match with a man of nervous temperament. Impossible! Another impossible thing is that a man of nervous temperament could match with an ardent woman.

So, the temperaments are very important. Not only is the affinity among the different centers of the organic machine necessary: Intellect, Emotion, Movement, Instinct and Sexual but also to have affinity of the temperaments. Only in this form, with the existing affinity of temperaments and perfect interrelation between the different centers of the machine can the authentic affinity that will bring happiness exist.

However, in this moment I am speaking of the normal sexuality. My friends, the supra sexuality is different. In order to enter the field of the supra sexuality, first of all, it is necessary to transmute the creative energy. We have to think of the sex not only as something physiological. You have to know that in the sex there exists energy. Einstein said: "Energy is equal to the mass multiplied by the speed of light squared." He also said: "Energy transforms itself into mass and that mass transform itself into energy." Is it possible to transform mass into energy? Of course!

Observe what happens with a puddle of water on the highway. With the warmth of the sun that water dries up and finally becomes a cloud and, in the end, synthesizes into energy: into lightening and thunder. All the water of the oceans and rivers become clouds and finally lightening and thunder, that is to say, energy. The same happens with the Ens Seminis. What is the Ens Seminis? It is the entity of the semen, that is to say, the sacred sperm.

Today, there exists the tendency to take the sperm as just a substance excreted by the sexual endocrine glands. The word "sacred" in relation to the sperm looks "out of wave". However, if you study carefully the "Psychoanalysis" of Sigmund Freud you will see that he says: "The religions in final synthesis, have a sexual origin." I agree with Freud in that sense. If you agree with it: good and if you do not: its okay.

When one observes the religions of the natives, for example, the religions of the different tribes of Indo-America or Africa or Asia, one can verify directly that in all those religions, in all those cults, there is a mixture between the sexual and the mystical, that is to say, the religious with the erotic: the Gods and Goddesses are in erotic postures, copulating. The most interesting is that those postures were sacred in the land of the Vedas.

Among the Trojans there existed what we could call 'something merely lustful', but in Crete there were great processions in which the priestesses walked with huge Phalluses. In those times the phallus was not taken as something vulgar like it is today, but was used to receive a true cult.

The Yoni, that is to say, the sexual feminine organ, also received cult. There is no doubt that the lance, which is to say: the Spear that wounded the side of the Christ, is the living representation of the Phallus. There is not doubt that the Cup, Chalice or Holy Grail for which the knights of the middle ages fought when they went to the Holy Land during the time of the eucharistic crusades, represents the feminine Yoni, the eternal feminine. So, in the field of supra sexuality, the chalice and the lance are sacred.

The sperm is sacred because in the sperm is contained our own personality. The medieval alchemists saw the VITRIOL in the sperm, that is to say: Visita Interiore Terram

Rectificatum Inveniam Ocultum Lapidum. "Visit the interior of our Earth and by rectifying it: you will find the occult stone."

But what is the stone that the medieval alchemists talked about? It is the famous Philosopher's stone. That stone has to be fabricated and there is no doubt that there exist formulae for its fabrication. I believe in the Philosopher's stone but it has to be made; through the sacred sperm and its transmutations: it is possible to attain the Philosopher's stone. When the clue is known, the transmutation of the sexual libido can transform the energy in sperm. What really counts is to know the clue.

If with the Ens Seminis we can procreate a son, if with the Ens Seminis we reproduce the species, if with the Ens Seminis we can fill the Earth with millions of human beings, then as a matter of fact, with the Ens Seminis, that is to say: with the entity of the semen we can give life to ourselves and become true Super Men in the most complete sense of the word.

Now, what really counts is to achieve the transmutation of the sexual libido. Through the transmutation we "cerebrize" the semen and "semenize" the cerebrum. It becomes necessary to "semenize" the cerebrum, gentlemen, because it is very well known by scientists that not all the areas of the brain are functioning.

Today it is known in medicine that only a minimal part of our brain is fulfilling its functions. Undoubtedly, we have many inactive areas. If having [only] activated a small part of the brain and we have reached the creation of spaceships that travel to the Moon, we have reached the creation of the atomic bomb with which we destroyed the cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and we have created super-sonic planes that travel at an extraordinary speed; what would it be like if we put all the parts of our brain into activity, if the totality of the encephalic mass would work? Then, we could transform this world and make it into something marvelous. Therefore, it is necessary to regenerate and "semenize" it: to "cerebrize" the semen and "semenize" the cerebrum. This is the clue.

Is it possible to "semenize" the cerebrum? The great musicians of the past like Beethoven, Chopin or Liszt were men that had a very "semenized" brain, they were men that gave their brains extraordinary capacities and utilized a major percentage of the cerebral areas. However, things are very different nowadays: the human brain has degenerated itself a lot and we do not realize this.

If we are in the middle of a party, if we are in tune with the "latest wave", if we are listening to Rock and Roll and suddenly somebody takes off the disc and puts on the Ninth Symphony of Beethoven, how would you feel? We are sure that you would not continue with the party. What would you do? Of course, you would not go to insult the head of the house but you would leave the house, is it not so?

Why? In the middle ages, when the brain had not been degenerated as much as it is now things were different, people danced the waltzes or with the rhythm of classical music. The musicians were playing the most delicious symphonies during dinner; at that time Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, and Liszt were hits.

That was the middle ages, gentlemen, but now we are not in that time. If somebody now plays that music we just say good bye and leave! Why? Because we have become bored. And why have we become bored? Let us be analytical, we are here in order to analyze. It is because the brain is degenerated, because there are certain areas [of our brain] that already cannot appreciate good music. Why has the brain become degenerated? It has been degenerated just because during many centuries we have been extracting from our organism the entity of the semen. We have not extracted it just to give life to other creatures; no, we have extracted it because we liked it, because it is a great pleasure and that is all. Because we have satisfied our lust in the beds of pleasure, but the one that has paid for it has been the brain and now, as a result, many areas are not working.

Yes, it is possible to regenerate the brain, but in order to regenerate it: it is necessary to transmute the entity of the semen, to transform it into energy. Only in this form can we "cerebrize" the semen.

What we need in this lecture is to say how we can do it. I will have the pleasure of explaining to you a very singular artifice that the medieval alchemists taught to their disciples. The artifice that I am going to teach was also taught by the men of modern science like Brown Squard in the United States. It was also taught by Krumm Heller, Doctor-Colonel of our glorious Mexican Army, by Jung and it is taught by the Asiatic schools of Oriental tantrism.

This is not something particular or that belongs to me, I learned it from those wise men and I transmit it to you not like an article of faith or an unbreakable dogma. No, if you want to accept it, do it; if you do not want to accept it, do not do it. Many schools have accepted it, many schools have rejected it; each one is free to think anything, I am just giving to you my modest opinion.

This is the artifice: Connection of the Lingam-Yoni. Lingam, you already know that Lingam is the Phallus. Yoni, you already know that is the uterus, the eternal feminine, the sexual organ of the woman. Connection of the Lingam-Yoni without the ejaculation of the entity of the semen. Doctor Krumm Heller used to give the clue in Latin, and he said: "Inmisio Miembro Viril In Vagina Femina Sine Eyaculatium Seminis."

Some modern scientists have accepted this clue; the Oneida Community in the United States experimented with this formula. Observe what they did in the Oneida Community: About twenty-five couples began working with the sex. They were ordered to copulate during a certain period of time but without the ejaculation of the entity of the semen. Then they were subjected to clinical studies. The complete "semenization" of the brain was observed, as well as the increase of hormones in the blood, the complete improvement of the organism, the strengthening of the sexual potency and many illnesses disappeared.

When the scientists decided that it was necessary procreate sons, then they gave permission to copulate with seminal ejaculation. Anyway, the interesting point of this ancient artifice that constitutes the secret secretorum of the medieval alchemists is that the sexual glands never reach degeneration. You know very well that when the sexual glands become degenerated, so too does the hypophysis and the glands of internal secretion. The entire nervous system passes through processes of degeneration and then comes decrepitude and the death.

Why does oldness exists? Because the sexual glands have become decrepit. When the sexual glands become decrepit, all the endocrine glands also become decrepit and then the process of decrepitude and oldness appears. However, there could exists a system that would not allow the degeneration and decrepitude of the sexual glands, then, the entire nervous system could be preserved in perfect activity, therefore, decrepitude nor oldness would not exist; that is obvious.

Therefore, through this subtle artifice: connection of the Lingam-Yoni without the ejaculation of the Ens Seminis (as the famous doctors Arnold Krumm Heller and Brown say) it is possible to conserve the sexual glands activity the entire life. This means that a man that practices this system will reach the age of 90 and 100 years still with capacity for copulation, for the enjoyment of sexual pleasure -that is a legitimate pleasure or sin, that is not a taboo and that has not been a reason to feel ashamed or to dissimulate, etc.,- and I repeat it again, is a legitimate right.

Now, through the transmutation of the entity of the semen into energy, extraordinary physiological changes are processed: the pineal gland is developed. That gland was active in remote times; then the human being possessed the eye of which Homer in his "Odyssey" speaks of: the Eye of the Laecertians, the eye of that terrible giant that tried to devour him. The Eye of the Laecertians is not a mere legend without foundations. Through the sexual transmutation, that gland is developed and becomes active again; this is the eye that allows us to perceive the ultra of everything.

Our world is not just of three dimensions as the "illustrious ignoramuses" believe; our world exists in a fourth vertical, and we can even emphatically affirm that it exists in a fifth, sixth and seventh vertical. This means that we have never seen our world as it truly is, and we have not seen it because our five senses are degenerated and because our pineal gland is atrophied. There exist other senses of perception that also are degenerated. If we can attain their regeneration, we will be able to perceive the world as it is, with its seven dimensions.

So, the crude reality of facts is that through the sexual transmutation it is possible to regenerate the pineal gland and the other senses that are atrophied. In this form we could have access to extraordinary knowledge, to the superior dimensions of nature and the cosmos, we could see, listen and touch the great realities of life and death; we could capture the entire cosmic phenomena as they really are and not as they apparently are.

Transmutation is the key, to change the sperm, to modify it into energy. The time has come to comprehend all of this wholly.

If a man would commit himself to fulfill that simple formula, the artifice that was taught by Brown, Krumm Heller and the medieval alchemists, I could say to you emphatically and with absolute security that such a man in the long run would transform himself into a Super Man.

We need to feel the necessity to change, to transform ourselves into something different if we are not reactionary, because the conservative and backward people do not want to change. However, when one is truly revolutionary, one wants to be different and to change fundamentally, to become a Super Man and to make of Nietzsche's doctrine a reality.

It is possible to change through sexual transmutation. The sexual force brought us to the field of life and you cannot deny that. We exist and live because we had a father and a mother. In final synthesis, the root of our own life is in the copulation of a man and a woman. Now, if the sexual force, if the energy of the sex had the power to bring us into the field of life, obviously it is the only one that has the authority to transform us radically.

In the world there are many ideologies and believes. Everybody is free to believe what they want, but the only force that has the authority to transform us, is the energy that created us, the one that brought us into the field of life; I am talking about the sexual force. To learn to handle that marvelous energy of sex means to become lord of creation.

When the sacred sperm is transformed into energy, extraordinary psycho-somatic changes are operated. We know well what those hormonal cups of our gonads are, how they work and how the hormones pass from one cup to another to finally reach the prostate through the spermatoc channels. We know well how valuable the prostate is: in it are produced the greatest transformations of the entity of the semen and the hormones finally enter into the blood system.

The word hormone comes from a Greek root that means "yearning of being", "force of being". The hormones have been studied by the scientists, they are marvelous! When the sexual hormones enter into the blood system, they generate wonders. When they touch the endocrine glands, the thyroid, the parathyroid, the suprarenal glands, thymus, etc., etc., etc., they stimulate them and make those small micro laboratories produce more and more hormones, and all of those hormones produced by the glands enrich the blood system extraordinarily; and then the pains and illnesses disappear.

Unfortunately, today the prepared sperm that ascends to the prostate is wasted and the famous spermatozoid does not even have the time to be decomposed among the hormones before it is spilled out of the organism. Many times the entity of the semen cannot even ascend from the testicles to the prostate, before it is already eliminated.

Concerning masturbators, what could we say? You know very well how vicious the masturbation is. When somebody masturbates himself, undoubtedly he is making a transgression against nature; after the ejaculation of the entity of the semen, there is a peristaltic movement in the phallus and this is known by any man. With that movement, the phallus takes always from the uterus of the woman the energy that it needs in order to nourish the brain. However, with the masturbation everything is different; the phallus during the masturbation absorbs the cool air with the peristaltic movement and in this form many cerebral faculties become extinct.

There have been many that have gone to the madhouse because of the vicious, abominable masturbation. A brain full of air is a brain one hundred percent stupid. So, we condemn that viciousness completely.

It is different when the sacred sperm is transmuted into energy but this is only possible during the copulation when we avoid, at any cost, the ejaculation of the Ens Seminis because as it was said by the best medieval wise men, within it there is the Ens Virtutis of the fire, that is to say, the igneous entity of the fire.

To enrich the blood to me is not a transgression; to transmute the sperm into energy is very well documented by men like Sigmund Freud and many others. Then, what really counts is to make good use of the sexual potency in order to "semenize" the brain and to develop the pineal gland, the hypophysis and others. In this form, one would attain a marvellous organic transformation.

The psycho-somatic field is intimately related with the sexuality. Supra sexuality also means something supra sexual in the field of the psyche-somatic. For this reason I say you clearly that Hermes Trismegistus, Quetzalcoatl, Buddha, Jeshuah Ben Pandira, that is to say, the Great Kabbir Jesus, were supra sexuals. They were the supra sexuals; the supra sexual man is the Super Man of Nietzsche.

One can reach the highs of the Super Man by entering the field of the supra sexuality, knowing to enjoy the love and the woman, knowing to live with happiness, with more emotion and with less useless reasoning. The emotion is what counts and it is more valuable than anything.

So, from a revolutionary point of view, we can become true God-Men if we want it. It would be enough to regenerate the areas of the brain, to make them work and then we would make of the world something better. However, I believe and it is indispensable to know that the clue for the regeneration is also the clue for the regeneration.

The wise men of ancient times spoke about the solar fire that exists in all organic and inorganic matter. Naturally, that fire is enclosed in the seminal system of man. Of course, it is not a physical fire, it is a fire of a supra dimensional, psychological and metaphysical kind.

That Fohat (a word that means fire of a strictly sexual kind) that all of us feel during the copulation can unfold and develop in order to ascend from our seminal system through the spinal medullar channel. When that fire ascends, it awakens powers that we ignore, extraordinary powers of perfection or, better to say, of extra sensorial perception; power that makes us divine. But it is necessary to awaken it through the transmutation of the libido, knowing how to enjoy love. The woman can also awaken them, knowing how to enjoy her male.

With that fire it is possible to do prodigies. The Orientals call it Kundalini and it is marvelous. Our Mexican ancestors used to call it Serpent because they said that has the form of a sacred serpent that ascends through the spinal medullar channel.

The Orient knows about the existence of seven centers which are located in the spinal column, magnetic centers that can be perfectly studied with the help of very special plaques, magnetized needles and other methods of investigation.

The first one is in the coccyx and when it becomes active, it confers determined powers over the earth element.

The second is at the level of the prostate [in men and the ovaries in women] and confers powers over the liquid elements of our organism.

The third is at the level of the navel and once awakened allows us to manage our ardent temperament and even to act over the universal fire.

The fourth is at the level of the heart and it is obvious that it confers certain extraordinary faculties such as telepathy, intuition and many others.

The fifth is at the level of the thyroid gland (that secrete the biological iodine) and confers upon us certain extraordinary psychic powers; that is to say, clairaudience, the power to listen the sounds of the ultra.

The sixth is at the level of the eyebrow and confers upon us the power to perceive the superior dimensions of nature and the cosmos.

The seventh is at the level of the pineal gland and gives us the power to see by ourselves the mysteries of life and death.

So, all these faculties are in a latent state within our organism and can be awakened with that extraordinary fire that Hindustani call Kundalini and that ascends through the medullar channel because of the sexual transmutation. However, in order to reach those heights it is necessary to work with this secret secretorum [during] the entire life. He that does so, will transform himself into a Super Man and will be able to penetrate into the amphitheatre of cosmic science, into the university of pure science and resolve problems that official science has not yet resolved.

Q* As you say, the copulation is done while trying not to ejaculate the entity of the semen, so what do you want to attain with that?

A All that one wants with this simple artifice taught by Brown Squard and the Oneida community is to copulate without the ejaculation of the entity of the semen because the wise men say that through this artifice one attains the transformation of the sacred sperm into energy. So, what ascends to the brain is not the sperm (otherwise we would become crazy) but the energy of that sperm. That is called transmutation.

One can enjoy the sexual pleasure without debilitating oneself. Normally, after the copulation, one feels a bit of repugnance, but if one does not ejaculate the entity of the semen, after the copulation one feels the desire to repeat it a million times and is always happy enjoying it without ever debilitating oneself. This is what the Oneida commune is teaching in the United States and that is what Jung taught. This is what the best wise men of the Earth are teaching in all the corners [of the Globe]. That is all!

Q* What is the entity of the semen?

A Well, when we speaking about the entity of the semen, we are talking about the sacred sperm, the semen itself. However, using a most delicate language it is called entity of the semen, and even in a most delicate form (so, people do not get scared) it is called Ens Seminis. Another question?

Q* Those that normally are called masochists, in what kind of sexuality would they be classified?

A Well, the masochist has some similitude with the sadistic but instead of abusing others -like the sadistic and as the marquis of Sade so happily precognized it- feels pleasure while horribly mortifying themselves. Certainly they are infra sexuals that belong to the sphere of Lilith, speaking in the language of the ancient wise men.
